

What's The Alternative? The New Water Demand Calculator

How This Changes Everything....

A Live Zoom Presentation

Described By Some as "The Biggest Industry Change In Decades."

Thursday, July 14, 2022

3:30 p.m. – 4:30 p.m.

Live Via Zoom Meeting

On May 3, the Department of Safety & Professional Services issued a letter of approval for an Alternate Standard related to the sizing of water supply piping, a change that is based on the IAPMO Water Demand Calculator (WDC).

The reaction to the WDC has been everything from joy, to suspicion, to outright disbelief. This program will explain the changes and then you get to make up your mind. Is it right for your company? What are the benefits? The risks?

Dean Petersen, PHCC-WI's code instructor, will present via Zoom, giving you a high-level overview of the change and its significant impact on the design of residential plumbing projects, including multi-family residences. The program will include samples of calculations under the existing and the alternate approval. There will also be time for your questions.

Come and learn and join the conversation!
